

TWU DISASTER RELIEF FUND

The people in Haiti and their families here in the United States and around the world need TWU's help. The catastrophic 7.0-magnitude earthquake in Haiti has left the country in ruins, killed and injured a devastating number of people and destroyed the capitol's infrastructure. Its impact will affect millions of people for years to come and is felt right here at home by some of our TWU members with family in Haiti.

The TWU Disaster Relief Fund, established by Int'l President James C. Little and planned in coordination with the AFL-CIO and other affiliates, will help provide the country with the aid they desperately need.

Every little bit helps so please give whatever you can to aid those in need of any and all relief.
